CONCEALED DIMENSIONS POLICY

At Corinthian Cast Stone, we prioritize accuracy and quality in all our projects. Understanding concealed dimensions is crucial for ensuring the stones' proper fit and finish. To assist in this process, we offer the following options for managing concealed dimensions:

CONCEALED DIMENSION OPTIONS

OPTION 1: CUSTOMER-PROVIDED DIMENSIONS

We strongly recommend that customers provide all necessary concealed dimensions before the preparation of shop drawings. This proactive approach helps prevent errors and delays by ensuring we have accurate data from the start.

OPTION 2: CCS FIELD MEASUREMENT

During field measurements, Corinthian Cast Stone (CCS) can measure dimensions at locations where the customer removes existing construction. A removal is to be 12”x12” area to allow a clear line of site of the existing depth stone and adjacent construction.It is important to note that no single location or dimension represents the entire building or all concealed conditions. We will assist in identifying areas that need removals, but variations should be expected.

OPTION 3: CCS FIELD MEASUREMENT & ADDITIONAL SITE VISITS

If areas of removal are not available during the initial field measurement and additional site visits are required, a change order will be issued. This ensures any unforeseen circumstances or adjustments are addressed efficiently, maintaining the integrity of the project schedule.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Customer's Responsibility: Provide accurate concealed dimensions before shop drawing preparation or ensure access (such as scaffolding or a man lift with a certified operator) is available for CCS to measure during field visits.
- CCS's Responsibility: Communicate what dimensions are needed before scheduling the field visit, documenting what is obtainable and not during the scheduled field visit. Working with and communicating with the client to provide the best possible outcome. Conduct field measurements based on available removals and issue change orders if additional site visits are necessary due to unavailable removals.

This policy provide flexibility while maintaining high standards of accuracy and accountability. Should you have any questions or require further clarification on our policy regarding concealed dimensions, please do not hesitate to contact us.
